Hello world! I'm a developer born June 15, 1984. I live in Bregnano, a quiet town near Como in Italy.

My passion is web developing, building every day better websites and applications with innovative user experience, cool graphic interface and using the latest technologies. I love working with a team of web enthusiasts with whom to share our experiences.

💼 Working experience

Full-stack web developer at Bryan Group [http://www.bryan.it/] from November 2013

> Website developer realized mainly with Wordpress starting from the server configuration to the creation of the HTML templates. Works for clients like Boggi Milano [http://www.boggi.it] and Atala [http://www.atala.it].

Frontend developer at Sowre [http://www.sowre.com/] from April 2013 to November 2013

> Developer of IBM WebSphere Portal's themes (HTML, CSS and JS) for clients like Giorgio Armani spa [http://www.armani.it/] and Ventura spa

[http://www.venturatravel.it/]. Developed HTML templates of Moby [http://www.moby.it/]'s mobile website.

Web developer at Prodigys Group [http://www.prodigys.it/] from March 2010 to April 2013

Frontend of many websites with particular attention to crossbrowsing (ie6+) pixel perfect and responsive web design for clients like Vodafone Italia [http://www.vodafone.it/] (2011 Home-page and 2012 SERP) and Allianz [http://www.allianz.it/] (mobile website). Optimization of websites with high traffic (Landing offerte ADSL Vodafone [http://offerte-adsl.vodafone.it/promozione/]). Lots of administrative tools developed in PHP and Python. I've worked in team with Riccardo Forina [http://riccardo.forina.me] and Tommaso Bagassi [http://www.tommasobagassi.com/].

✈ About me

I love to live our world not only through a monitor but also travelling, taking pictures, juggling, driving (especially motorcycles), snowboarding, playing boardgames and staying with friends.
I also play a new strange sport called TchoukBall [http://www.tchoukball.org].
